Unique

DyeHaus is pleased to launch two new lines of leather clutches. Each design and piece is a unique individual piece of art.

Supple Australian soft leather, tanned in Italy, is either dyed and printed with locally foraged plants or indigo in my studio in the Blue Mountains and then hand-crafted by a Polish master bag maker in Redfern, Sydney using high quality hardware and zippers, re-inforced seams and my beautiful hand-dyed canvas lining.

The clutches are incredibly useful as the soft leather expands and they hold an astonishing amount of personal belongings.

Both styles are versatile and appeal to the young and funky (Indigo) or more traditional taste with the Botanicals range.

The bags make a great gift as they are light, compact and come with a gift pouch, tote bag and a descriptive postcard.

Indigo

DyeHaus's distinctive designs are inspired by the ancient Japanese craft of Shibori where the creation of complex patterns is endless through folding, pleating and tying.

The classic Indigo blue blends easily into any wardrobe.

Each clutch is large enough to accommodate a day out yet small enough to make a chic evening accessory.

Botanicals

A Botanicals clutch preserves Australian Flora, making it portable, useful and a fashion statement at the same time.

This unique technique is time-consuming, and involves bundling and steaming of the plant matter.

The choice of plants as well as use of a fixative, will ensure the typical colour-fastness for natural dyes.

These prints are achieved with natural pigments, not synthetic dyes.
